

14th ISAIA Academic Session Award 2024 Guidelines for Judgement

1. This award is titled ISAIA Academic Session Award
2. Two judges of the award are held by two chairpersons of each session. Papers are graded during its presentation. The paper not presented in the session is not the object of grading. The two judges grade separately the papers using the score sheet.
3. The judge send the score sheet to the award committee just after the finishing of the session. The award committee is composed of the members of the steering committee in Japan
4. The total score of two judge is the final score. The winner is the author who marked the best score of the session. In case the best tie score is marked by more than two authors, the award committee decide the winner.
5. The award committee announce the winner's name, title of the paper, affiliation, and the session during the farewell party.
6. The award committee will send an award certificate to the author after the conference.